Agentic AI Project Report

This is a sample PDF document generated for testing purposes.

The Agentic AI project involves automating workflows using intelligent agents. These agents perform tasks such as document parsing, summarization, and text-to-speech conversion. This document serves as a simple example of PDF generation in Python.